INDEX TO VOL. LXVII

The titles of articles are printed in italics

ABY

'ABYSS, On the Brink of an,' 779–785
Academy, Royal, and the French Salons, 1042–1048
Advocates, King's Counsel and Solicitors, rights of audience, 692–698
Ady (Mrs.), Italian Humanists and their Gardens, 273–287
African natives under Belgian, British, and German rule, 407–423
Agriculture in tropical Australia, white v. coloured labour, 368–380
Alcohol and the African: the Experiment in Sierra Leone, 1008–1025
Alcohol in Relation to Life, 516–523
Alien immigrants and the Appeal Board, 156–168
Ameer Ali (Right Hon. Syed), The Constitutional Experiment in India, 394–406
Anglo-German Entente, An, 487–491
Anglo-German relations, 14–21, 753–763, 862–865, 1061–1067
Anglo-Japanese alliance and British policy in the Far East, 534–543
Anglo-Russian Convention, The, and Persia, 544–549
Arabic Art, Animate Life in, 1068–1076
Arden, Forest of, and Shakespeare's Warwickshire, 894–906
Army, How to get an, 215–226
Army, National, An Efficient, 834–848
Army Officers, The Shortage of, 1077–1090
Art, From, to Social Reform: Ruskin's 'Nature of Gothic,' 922–930

BARKER (J. Ellis), The Greatest Social Problem and its Solution, 585–604
Battine (Captain Cecil), Dutch and Belgian Independence, 668–675
Beaunier (André), La Littérature Française Contemporaine, 48–64
Belgian and Dutch Independence, 668–675

CAN

Belgium, Britain, and the Congo, 407–423
Bengal unrest and the Government's duty, 1–13, 227–237
Blake (Maurice B.), Our Weak Policy in Persia, 544–549
Blake (William), The Trial of, for High Treason, 849–861
Board of Trade wages census, 931–956
Boigne (Madame de), The Husband of, 699–710
Boswell (James) and a Corsican Patriot, 130–145
Bowley (A. L.), The Insufficiency of Official Statistics, 931–945; his estimate of assessed incomes, 474–483
Boys, How to train, for a useful career, 335–345
Bradley (Rose M.), James Boswell and a Corsican Patriot, 130–145
British Army, An efficient, 215–226, 834–848
British Army, Supply of officers for the, 1077–1090
British Electorate, The, its uncertain voice, 569–584
British Navy and politics, 189–214
British Navy estimates and foreign Dreadnoughts, 737–763
British rule and Indian idealism, 622–635
British rule in India and native representation, 394–406
British traders and foreign exhibitions, 983–994
Brown (Percy), The Mogul School of Painting, 121–129
Bryden (H. A.), French Hunting, 907–921

CAMBRONNE and the French Guard at Waterloo, 1026–1034
Canada, Wolfe's expedition to, and capture of Quebec, 445–460
Canal between Clyde and Forth, 146–155

CAN

Canal Revival Scheme, The, 288–304
Celtic megalithic monuments of Britain and Gaul, 356–367
Censorship of Stage Plays, The: Another Point of View, 164–172
Chase, The, in modern France, 907–921
Chemical action of alcohol on the animal body, 516–523
Christianity or Islam the religion for the Negro? 995–1007
Clarke (Rev. A. H. T.), Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister and the Cry of Disestablishment, 257–272
Cleon, 764
Coal strikes and co-partnership, 37–47
Colonisation and its difficulties, 605–621
Colquhoun (Mrs. Archibald), The Husband of Madame de Boigne, 699–710
Compromise, The Possibilities of, 786–792
Congo, Belgium, Britain, and the, 407–423
Constitutional Crisis, The, 22–36, 793–797
Constitutional Experiment in India, The, 394–406
Constitutional 'Sham Fight,' The, 765–778
Contemporary French literature, 48–64
Cooksey (Charles F.), The Secret of Stonehenge, 356–367
Copin-Albancelli (M.), on French Freemasonry, 658–662
Corea and Seoul, A short visit to, 1099–1115
Corea under Prince Ito and the Japanese, 173–188
Corsican Patriot, James Boswell and a, 130–145
Costa (Gabriel S.), In the Shadow of the Tower, 156–163
Courts of Justice, Our, Reforms needed in, 676–698
Cox (Sir Edmund C.), England and Germany: How to meet the Crisis, 758–763; reply to, 862–865
Cox (Harold), The Denial of Self-Government, 381–393; The Possibilities of Compromise, 786–792
Craftsmanship, Decline of, and decay of manual dexterity, 461–467
Crown, The, and the Constitution, 969–982
Curzon (Lord), Lord Morley, and Indian unrest, 1–13

D'ARCY (Right Rev. C. F.), Bishop of Ossory, 'The Will of the People': a National Opportunity, 560–568

FOR

Darwinism, Natural Selection, and variation as result of environment, 86–107
Davies (Mr. W. H.), his poems reviewed, 65–78
Deceased Wife's Sister, Marriage with a, and the Cry of Disestablishment, 257–272
Declaration of London, The, 505–515
Deichmann (Baroness), The German Scare, 1061–1067
Demagogue's rise and eclipse, The, 764
Democracy and the rule of the majority, 560–568, 798–816
Dicey (Prof. A. V.), 'On the Brink of an Abyss,' 779–785
Dimnet (Abbé Ernest), The General Election in France, 1134–1142
Disestablishment, The Cry of, Marriage with a Deceased Wife's Sister and, 257–272
Dixon (Professor W. E.), Alcohol in Relation to Life, 516–523
Dunraven (Earl of), The Constitutional 'Sham Fight,' 765–778
Durrant (William Scott), From Art to Social Reform: Ruskin's 'Nature of Gothic,' 922–930
Dutch and Belgian Independence, 668–675

EDUCATION, George Meredith's ideas upon, 305–323
Education and the London loafer, 335–345
Edward the Seventh, King, A tribute to his memory, 957–968
Election canvassing, A lady's experiences in, 324–334
Emden (Judge), A Dangerous Parting of the Legal Ways, 676–698
Emperors of Japan and their exploits, 711–726, 866–881, 1116–1133
England and Germany: How to meet the Crisis, 758–763; reply to, 862–865
England and Germany: How not to make the Crisis, 862–865
Epochs of Japan, 711–726, 866–881, 1116–1133
Evolution and Mutual Aid, Theory of, 86–107

FENWICK (Mrs. Bedford), State Registration of Trained Nurses, 1049–1060
Fiscal reform, family incomes, and graduated income tax, 468–486, 931–956
Formosa, Corea, and Japan, 605–621
Forth and Clyde Warship Canal scheme, 146–155

FRA

France, Freemasonry in, 651–662
France, The General Election in, 1134–1142
Fraser (Sir Andrew), The Press Law in India, 227–237
Freehold occupancy for town-dwellers and tenant-farmers, 585–604
Freemasonry in France, 651–662
Free Trade and Irish industries, 238–256
French contemporary literature, 48–64
French Hunting, 907–921
Fuller (Sir Bampfylde), The Indian Responsibilities of Liberal Politicians, 1–13

GARDENS, Italian Humanists and their, 273–287
General Election in France, The, 1134–1142
General Election, The, and 'The Will of the People,' 550–568
General Strike: its Consequences and a Remedy, 37–47
German and British Naval programmes, 189–214, 487–491, 753–763
German Scare, The, 1061–1067
Germany, England and: How to meet the Crisis, 753–763
Germany, England and: How not to make the Crisis, 862–865
Germany, England, and the Netherlands, 663–675
Germany's Real Attitude towards England, 14–21
Giffen (Sir R.), his Report on incomes of wage-earners, 470–474, 931–945, 948–956
Gladstone (Mr.), Some Reminiscences of, 79–85
Government and the Constitution, A Liberal Peer's views concerning, 793–797
Graham (Marquess of), The Proposed Mid-Scotland Canal: a Criticism, 146–155
Great Britain and Japan in the Far East, 534–543
Gregory (Alice S.), The Case for the Working Mother, 727–736
Gregory (Professor J. W.), White Labour in Tropical Agriculture: a Great Australian Experiment, 368–380
Gwynn (Stephen), The Making of a Poet, 65–78

HANDS, Our, Are we losing the Use of? 461–467
Harris (Frank) and Shakespeare's life story, 636–650

IVE

Herbert (George) and Henry Vaughan, the Silurist, 492–504
Hodgkin (Dr. Thomas), England and Germany: How not to make the Crisis, 862–865
Home Rule and Irish industries, 238–256
Home Rule and Irish Independent Nationalists, 424–444
Home Workers of London, The, 524–533
Hudson (Rev. John), Cleon, 764
Humanists of the Renaissance and their gardens, 273–287
Hunting, French, 907–921
Hurd (Archibald S.), The New Navy Estimates, 737–752
Hymns, 1091–1098

IBSEN as a Norwegian, 846–855
Imperial Defence, An effective Army for, 834–848
Income-Tax, The Possibilities of an, according to the Scheme of Pitt, 468–486; replies to, 931–945, 946–956
Income-Tax according to the Scheme of Pitt: a Reply, 946–956
India, The Constitutional Experiment in, 394–406
India, General de Boigne in, 699–710
India, The Press Law in, 227–237
India, Racial Feeling in, 622–635
India, The Submerged Half in, 817–833
Indian art under Mogul emperors, 121–129
Indian Responsibilities of Liberal Politicians, The, 1–13
Insurance against Unemployment, Compulsory: a Swiss Scheme, 882–893
International exhibitions, Japanese arts, industries, and history, 711–726
International Exhibitions, Should Britain take part in? 983–994
International law and rights of belligerents and neutrals, 505–515
Ireland, The New Power in, 424–444
Irish Parliamentary Party and the Home Rule movement, 793–816
Irish Party, The Parliamentary Position and the, 238–256
Irish Volunteers of 1779, an example in national defence, 215–226
Italian Humanists and their Gardens, 273–287
Ito Legend, The: Personal Recollections of Prince Ito, 173–188
Ives (Herbert), The Trial of William Blake for High Treason, 849–861

JAP

JAPAN, Corea, and Prince Ito, 178–188
Japan, Epochs of, 711–726, 866–881, 1116–1133
Japan and Great Britain in the Far East, 534–548
Japan's colonial enterprise, Corea and Formosa, 605–621
Johnston (Sir Harry H.), The Negro and Religion, 995–1007
Jusserand (M.) as a Shakespearean critic, 636–650

KING EDWARD THE SEVENTH: an Appreciation, 957–968
Kingsley (Rose G.), Shakespeare in Warwickshire, 894–906
Kingston (Gertrude), She Stoops to Canvass, 324–334
Koht (Dr. Halvdan), Ibsen as a Norwegian, 346–355
Kropotkin (Prince), The Theory of Evolution and Mutual Aid, 86–107

LABOUR colony in Switzerland, 108–120
Labour disputes, A remedy for, 37–47
Labour problem in tropical Australia, 368–380
Labour-saving contrivances and decline of manual dexterity, 461–467
Lady canvassers at elections, 324–334
Lamington (Lord), An Anglo-German Entente, 487–491
Land problems and local taxation, 585–604
Legal Ways, A Dangerous Parting of the, 676–698
Liberal Politicians, The Indian Responsibilities of, 1–18
Life, Animate, in Arabic Art, 1068–1076
Lilly (W. S.), The Will of the People: Some Reflections on the General Election, 550–559; Our Masters, 798–816
Littérature Française Contemporaine, 48–64
London Loafer, The, 835–845
Longford (Joseph H.), Epochs of Japan, 711–626, 866–881, 1116–1133
Lords, House of, and functions of a Second Chamber, 22–36
Lords, House of, and social reform, 765–778
Lords, House of, as a Chamber of experts, 565–568
Lyttelton (Mrs. Alfred), The Call of the Theatre, 1035–1041

MAJORITY, The rule of the, its fallacies, 550–559
Mallock (W. H.), The Possibilities of an Income-Tax, according to the Scheme of Pitt, 468–486; replies to, 931–945, 946–956
Manual dexterity, Decline of, 461–467
Marriott (J. A. R.), The Constitutional Crisis, 22–36; The Crown and the Constitution, 969–982
Masonic influence on French politics, 651–662
Masters, Our, 798–816
Matrimonial affinities, Mosaic and other laws concerning, 257–272
Meredith (George) and Education, 305–323
Mid-Scotland Canal, The Proposed: a Criticism, 146–155
Midwives Act and the working mother, 727–736
Minimum Wages Board and Home Workers' Aid Association, 524–533
Minto (Lord) on reforms in Indian administration, 394–406
Mogul School of Painting, The, 121–129
Molloy (Bernard), A General Strike: its Consequences and a Remedy, 37–47
Money (L. G. Chiozza), The Possibilities of an Income Tax according to the Scheme of Pitt, 946–956
Morel (E. D.), Belgium, Britain, and the Congo, 407–423
Moslem Art and pictures of living creatures, 1068–1076
Mothers, Working, and midwives, 727–736
Murders and sedition in India, 227–237
Mutual Aid, The Theory of Evolution and, 86–107

NATIONAL Army, An Efficient, 834–848
National Opportunity, A, 'The Will of the People,' 560–568
National Theatre as a memorial to Shakespeare, 1035–1041
Nationalists, Independent Nationalists, and 'Board of Erin,' 424–444
Naval expansion and Moral Force, 862–865
Naval Situation, The, and Party Politics, 189–214
Navy Estimates, The New, 737–752
Negro, The, and Religion, 995–1007
Netherlands, The, Great Britain, Germany, and France, 663–675
Nihal Singh (Saint), The Submerged Half in India, 817–833

NOR

Norwegian origin of Ibsen's family, 346–355
Nurses, Trained, State Registration of, 1049–1060

O'BRIEN (William), The New Power in Ireland: a Retrospect and a Postscript, 424–444
Ossory (Bishop of), 'The Will of the People': a National Opportunity, 560–568
Overcrowding and the leasehold system, 585–604
Over-Sea Dominion, On the Making of an, 605–621

PAINTING, The Mogul School of, 121–129
Paoli (Pasquale), the Corsican patriot, 130–145
Parliamentary Position, The, and the Irish Party, 288–256
Party extremists and unrepresented moderate electors, 881–898
Party politics and the British Navy, 189–214
Pearson (Norman), Hymns, 1091–1098
Penal Labour Colony, A Self-supporting, 108–120
'People, The Will of the,' and the political situation, 550–584
Persia, Our Weak Policy in, 544–549
Phelps (Miss Sydney K.), The Home Workers of London, 524–538
Picture-making, Some Tendencies in, 1042–1048
Piggott (Sir Francis T.), The Ito Legend: Personal Recollections of Prince Ito, 178–188; On the Making of an Over-Sea Dominion, 605–621; A Fortnight in Seoul, 1099–1115
Pilkington (Col. Henry), How to get an Army, 215–226
Pitt's Income-Tax Scheme, 468–486, 946–956
Playwrights and the Censor, 164–172
Poet, The Making of a, 65–78
Poetry for public worship and Church hymnals, 1091–1098
Political Situation, The, 765–797
Political situation, The, and the 'Voice of the People,' 569–584
Pollock (Lieut.-Col. Alsager), An Efficient National Army, 834–848
Pratt (Edwin A.), The Canal Revival Scheme, 288–304
Press Law in India, The, 227–237
Probyn (Sir Leslie), Alcohol and the African: The Experiment in Sierra Leone, 1008–1025

STA

QUEBEC Campaign, Fresh Light on the, from the missing Journal of General Wolfe, 445–460
Queensland sugar-culture, Kanakas and white colonists, 868–880
Queen Victoria and the Monarchy, 969–982

RACIAL Feeling in India, 622–635
Reminiscences of Mr. Gladstone, Some, 79–85
Redway (Major G. W.), The Shortage of Army Officers, 1077–1090
Registration of Nurses, Bill for, 1049–1060
Renaissance gardens of Italy, 278–287
Revolution, Constitutional, 779–785
Ribblesdale (Lord), The Constitutional 'Crisis,' 793–797
Ridge (W. Pett), The London Loafer, 835–845
Ripon (Bishop of), King Edward the Seventh: an Appreciation, 957–968
Ruskin's art criticisms and political economy, 922–930
Russian intervention in Persia, and the Anglo-Russian Convention, 544–549

SCOTLAND," proposed new Canal through, 146–155
Self-Government, The Denial of, 881–898
Sellers (Edith), A Self-Supporting Penal Labour Colony, 108–120; Compulsory Insurance against Unemployment: a Swiss Scheme, 882–898
Seoul, A Fortnight in, 1099–1115
Seton-Karr (Sir Henry), 'Vox Populi ——,' 569–584
Shakespeare as a Teacher, 636–650
Shakespeare in Warwickshire, 894–906
She Stoops to Canvass, 824–834
Sierra Leone, Crusade against drunkenness, 1008–1025
'Silex Scintillans,' Henry Vaughan, and George Herbert, 492–504
Smith (Sir Swire), Should Britain take part in International Exhibitions? 985–994
Social Problem, The Greatest, and its Solution, 585–604
Social Reform, From Art to: Ruskin's 'Nature of Gothic,' 922–930
Stage Plays, The Censorship of: Another Point of View, 164–172
Stag-hunting in France, 907–921
Stanhope (Earl), Great Britain and Japan in the Far East, 534–543
Statistics, Official, The Insufficiency of, 931–945

STE

Stephens (Mr. James), his 'Insurrections' reviewed, 65–78
Stonehenge, The Secret of, 856–867
Strachey (George), An Unsolved Mystery of Waterloo, 1026–1034
Submerged Half, The, in India, 817–833
Swiss labour colony at Witzwil, 108–120
Switzerland, Insurance against unemployment in, 882–898

TARIFF Reformers and Free Trade Unionists, Co-operation between, 786–792
Tavernier (Eugène), Freemasonry in France, 651–662
Territorials, regulars, and National Defence, 834–848
Theatre, The Call of the, 1025–1041
Tower, In the Shadow of the, 156–168
Treason, Trial of the painter-poet Blake for, 849–861
Tree (Viola), The Censorship of Stage Plays: Another Point of View, 164–172
Treves (Sir Frederick), Are we losing the Use of our Hands? 461–467
Tuchmann (Charles), Germany's Real Attitude towards England, 14–21

UNEMPLOYMENT, Compulsory Insurance against: a Swiss Scheme, 882–898

VAUGHAN (Canon), Henry Vaughan, Silurist, 492–504
Vaughan (Henry), Silurist, 492–504
Volunteer movement for National defence, 227–237
'Vox Populi ——,' 569–584

WOR

WAGE-EARNERS and tax-payers, 468–486, 931–945, 946–956
War, International relations during, 505–515
Warwickshire, Shakespeare in, 894–906
Waterloo, An Unsolved Mystery of, 1026–1034
Waterways and railways, 288–304
Watson (Professor Foster), George Meredith and Education, 805–828
Wedmore (Frederick), Some Tendencies in Picture-making, 1042–1048
West (Sir Algernon), Some Reminiscences of Mr. Gladstone, 79–85
Westlake (Professor John), The Declaration of London, 505–515
Whishaw (Bernhard and Ellen M.), Animate Life in Arabic Art, 1068–1076
White Labour in Tropical Agriculture: a Great Australian Experiment, 868–880
White (Sir William H.), The Naval Situation and Party Politics, 189–214
'Will of the People, The,' 550–568
Williams (Mr. W. M. J.) on 'The King's Revenue,' 474–486
Willson (Beckles), Fresh Light on the Quebec Campaign, from the missing Journal of General Wolfe, 445–460
Wodehouse (E. Armine), Racial Feeling in India, 622–635
Wolfe (General), Fresh Light on the Quebec Campaign from the missing Journal of, 445–460
Women home-workers and sweated labour, 524–533
Women of India and social reform, 817–833
Working Mother, The Case for the, 727–736

PRINTED BY
SPOTTISWOODE AND CO. LTD., LONDON
COLCHESTER AND ETON